

User manuals

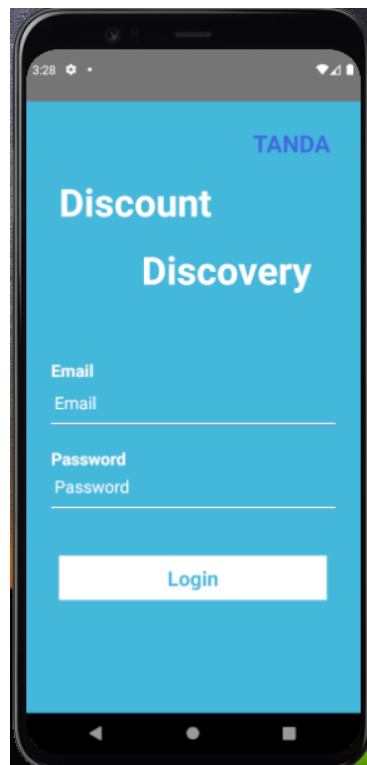

1. Access Tanda application

Click app named "Discount Discovery" to run the application

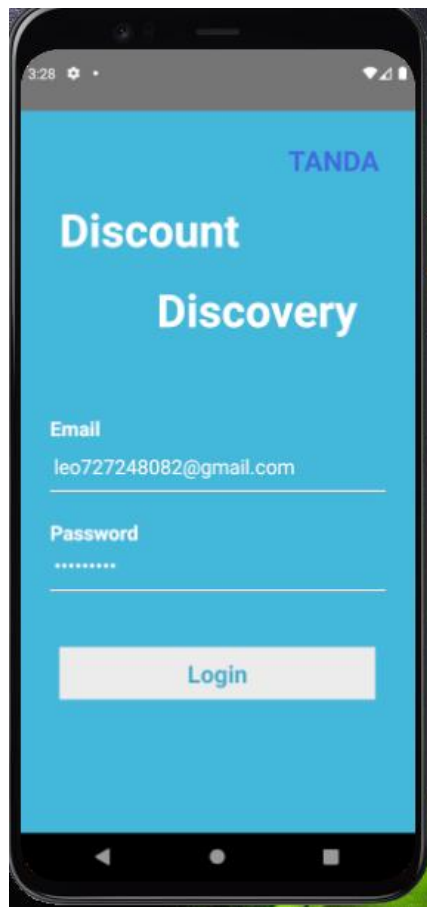

2. Login with Tanda account

After click the application icon, the login screen will be appeared.

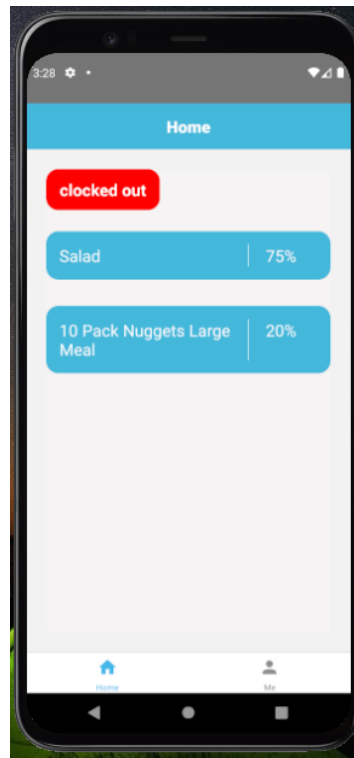

User need to fill in a Tanda account (email and password) and press the login button to login to the application.

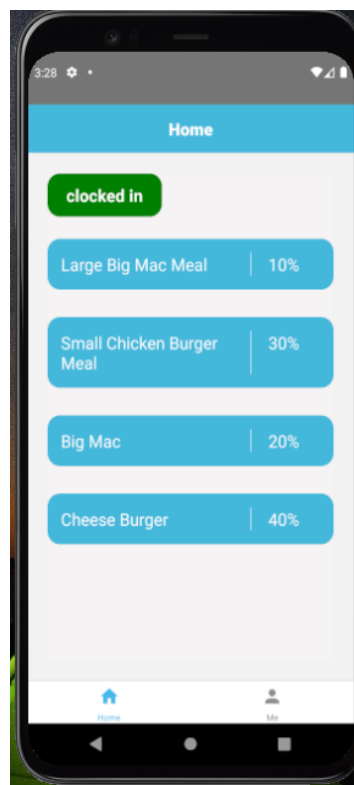

3. View discount

After login successfully, If the user clocked out, started break in or ended break in his company on Tanda's app, then he can see the "clocked out" icon and a list of on-shift discounts in Home screen.

If he clocked in his company on Tanda's app, then he can see the "clocked in" icon and a list of off-shift discounts on Home screen.

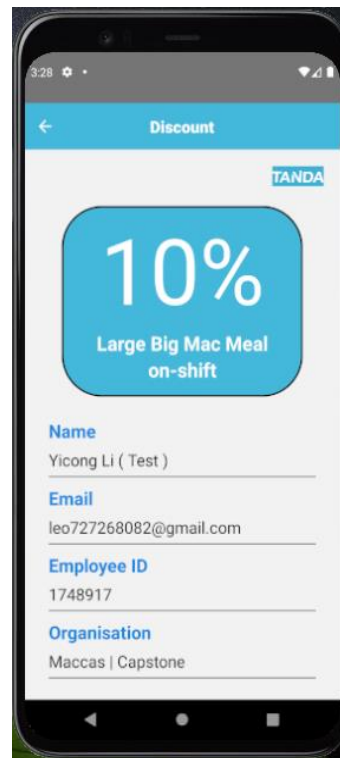

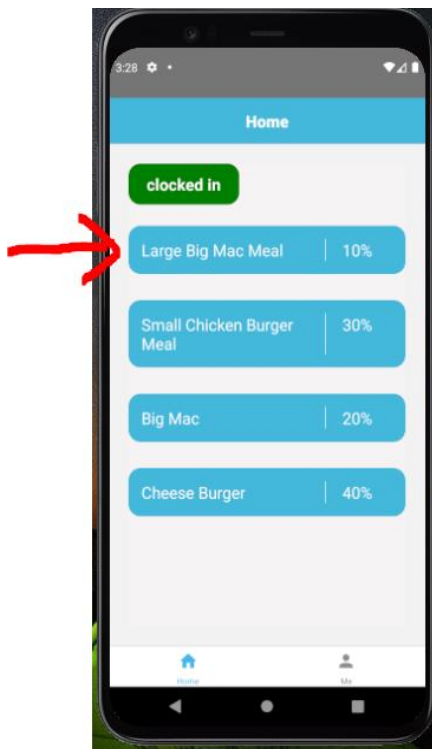

4. pull to refresh

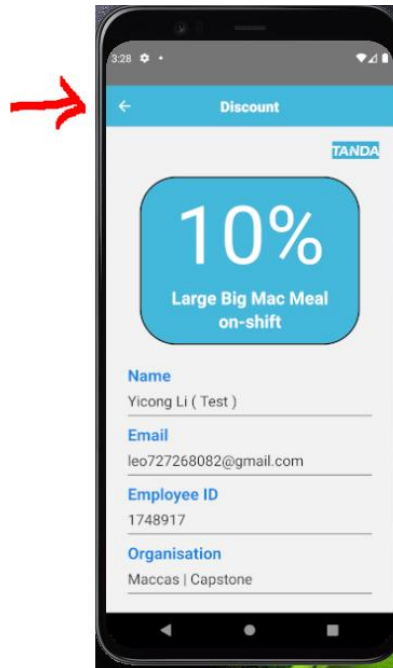

User can pull to refresh on Home screen to display his newest shift status and the newest available discounts corresponding to this shift status.

5. View detail of discount

User can click on one of available discounts to view the details and then show this Discount screen with cashier to use the discount.

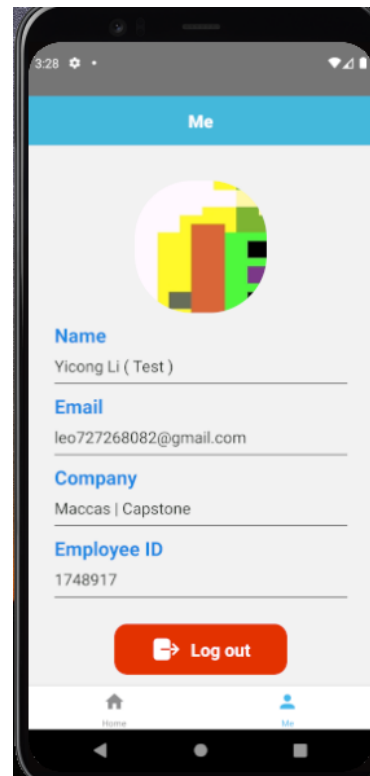

User can press back arrow on the top left header to back to Home screen

6. View user information

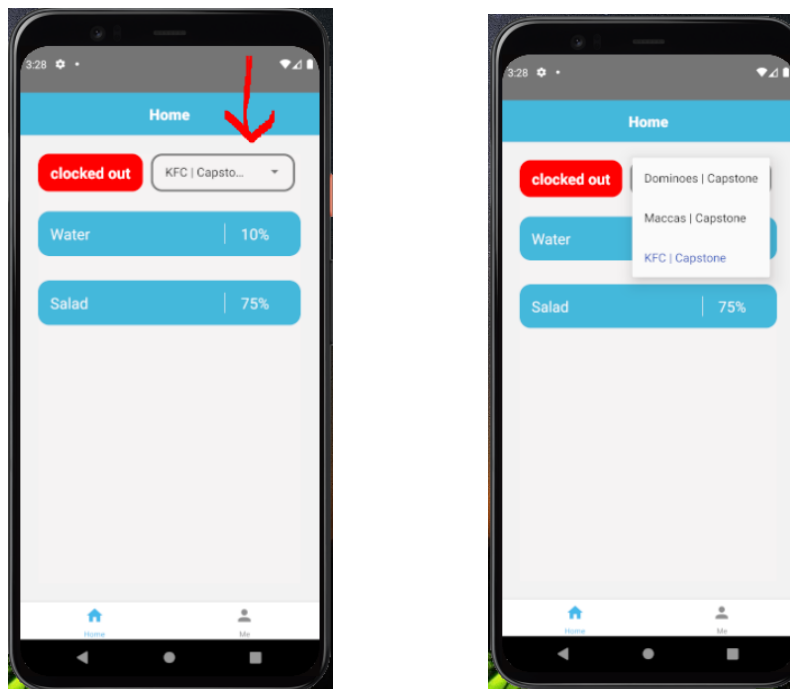

Click on Me tab to enter Me screen. It displays the user's information and logout button for user to log out the app in the bottom of the screen.

7. Switch company

For multiple-job users, users can choose a different company from drop menu to view available discounts and his shift status corresponding to the selected company.

By clicking on the arrow in drop menu, a list of companies will appear.

Click on different company I.e. Maccas (blue is chosen company) to view available discounts and his shift status corresponding to the selected company.

